

Lamb & Flag, Blagdon Hill August 2009 Newsletter

Apologies for late arrival of this news letter and its rather threadbare calendar of events! However quality rather than quantity is the order of the day, or month, this August.

This weekend we are having our monthly themed food night and France and its cuisine is on the menu. However nothing too scary or controversial is on the menu! Three courses for £12.50 this month and ideally diners will be ready for a 7.45/8pm start.

The main event of the month is the return of the Oxford Shakespeare Company for their production of Romeo & Juliet on August 23rd, the venue for which has been switched back to the Lamb & Flag Garden for logistical reasons. Tickets can be bought or reserved by contacting the pub at any time for either the matinee at 1pm or the evening show starting at 6pm. We will be selling food tickets as with last year and as ever it promises to be a great day's entertainment! This is their fourth year in Blagdon Hill and I would urge anyone who hasn't been before to give it a try.

Thank you to all who came to the Mad Hatter's Tea Party on Sunday 19th July which we held in the pub as the rain and wind meant the green was unusable. Despite this the kids seemed to have a good time and I am glad so many adults came for the social too. I am in discussion with the white rabbit and Alice about doing a similar thing again, possibly Goldilocks & the three bears! Hopefully this sort of event will get people out to socialise whilst having their kids looked after and entertained, allowing parents the chance to relax and complain about the weather like the rest of us!
